

DIALOG® GIVES YOUR NEW PRODUCT HELP AT EVERY TURN.

These days, finding your way through the maze of government regulations, patent developments and marketplace tracking is next to impossible without up-to-the-minute, accurate information.

That's where DIALOG comes in.

After all, for vital chemical, regulatory and business data, where else would you look than in the world's largest online information service? Only DIALOG offers immediate access to thousands of industry and trade journals covering all the latest developments in the chemistry field.

With DIALOG, all you need is a PC to check new patents and trademarks, identify chemical structures graphically or gather research on environmental issues. You'll even locate the latest research results before they're published, by scanning conference papers from sessions worldwide. But you won't waste a minute plowing through irrelevant material, because DIALOG helps you go straight to your specific need.

So if you're involved in bringing a new product to market, ask your corporate librarian or information specialist about DIALOG. You may also contact us directly at 800-3-DIALOG (800-334-2564) or FAX at 415-858-7069. Call now. Because the sooner you get the information you need, the sooner you can return to work.
